A2 TENSES ≈ 27 MIN

Going To Future — practice on paper

You have built the lesson — now lock in plans and predictions, brick by brick. New examples, same form.

A plan made before or evidence seen now: am / is / are + going to + base verb

NAME _____ DATE _____

YOUR BUILD 1 · SORTING ○ 2 · FILL-IN ○ 3 · CORRECT ○ 4 · WRITE ○

BRICK 1 · SORT PLAN AND PREDICTION · APPROX. 4 MIN ●○○

Read each sentence carefully. A plan decided before speaking? → left column. A prediction based on evidence you can see now? → right column.

I'm going to ask for a day off

Look at his calendar — he's going to miss the train

They're going to open a Berlin branch

The printer is flashing — it's going to stop any minute

We're going to buy new laptops

Listen to that noise — the lift is going to break

She's going to talk to her boss tomorrow

The figures look bad — we're going to lose the client

He's going to hand in his notice

It's nearly five — the meeting is going to overrun

PLAN — DECIDED BEFORE	PREDICTION — EVIDENCE NOW

BRICK 2 · COMPLETE THE RIGHT FORM · APPROX. 6 MIN ●●○

Fill in the matching form of be — sometimes negative (isn't / aren't). Always check the subject before the gap first.

01 I _____ going to send the report tonight.

02 She looks exhausted — she _____ going to fall asleep in the meeting.

03 We _____ going to move to a bigger office in June.

04 Tom has decided against the offer — he _____ going to take the job.

05 _____ you going to join the workshop on Friday?

06 They _____ going to finish by Friday — only two trainees are on the project.

07 Watch out — you _____ going to spill your coffee!

08 I _____ not going to work this Saturday — I need a real break.

YOUR BUILD · 1 · SORTING · 2 · FILL-IN · 3 · CORRECT · 4 · WRITE

BRICK 3 · FIND AND CORRECT THE MISTAKE · APPROX. 7 MIN

Each sentence hides exactly one mistake with be + going to. Underline it and write the whole sentence correctly.

01 I going to call the client tomorrow.

02 She are going to lead the workshop.

03 He's going to flying to London on Monday.

04 I'm gonna send the email this afternoon.

05 You are going to attend the training?

06 He doesn't going to join us for the call.

BRICK 4 · WRITE YOUR OWN SENTENCES · APPROX. 8 MIN

Write one sentence for each prompt. Check every time: matching am / is / are + going to + base verb.

01 Your evening plan: "I'm going to … after work."

02 Your weekend: "This weekend, I'm going to …"

03 Your team: "We're going to … next month."

04 Your forecast: "Look at … — it's going to …"

MINI-CHECK – CAN I DO THIS YET?

- ☐ I can express a plan decided before speaking: "We're going to move the office."
- ☐ I can base a prediction on visible evidence: "Look at the sky — it's going to …"
- ☐ I form questions and negatives correctly: "Are you going to …?" · "She isn't going to …"
- ☐ I choose am, is, or are to match the subject, and I write the full form instead of "gonna".

Not every box ticked? Build the lesson once more and try this sheet again tomorrow.

Answer key

Check only when you have finished. Every answer comes with the why — the rule matters more than the result.

BRICK 1 · SORTING

01 I'm going to ask for a day off → Plan
An intention that was fixed before speaking.

02 Look at his calendar — he's going to miss the train → Vorhersage
The packed calendar is visible now — clear evidence.

03 They're going to open a Berlin branch → Plan
A company decision that has already been made.

04 The printer is flashing — it's going to stop any minute → Vorhersage
The flashing is the present evidence.

05 We're going to buy new laptops → Plan
The team's intention, decided beforehand.

06 Listen to that noise — the lift is going to break → Vorhersage
The noise is audible now — the prediction rests on it.

07 She's going to talk to her boss tomorrow → Plan
Her intention exists before the conversation.

08 The figures look bad — we're going to lose the client → Vorhersage
The current figures are the visible evidence.

09 He's going to hand in his notice → Plan
A personal decision that is already settled.

10 It's nearly five — the meeting is going to overrun → Vorhersage
The time shows now where this is heading.

BRICK 2 · FILL-IN

01 I am going to send the report tonight.
"I" takes "am".

02 she is going to fall asleep in the meeting
"She" takes "is" — the tiredness is visible now.

03 We are going to move to a bigger office
"We" takes "are" — a settled plan.

04 he isn't going to take the job
A decided refusal — "not" goes right after "is".

05 Are you going to join the workshop on Friday?
In a question, "are" moves before the subject "you".

06 They aren't going to finish by Friday
"They" takes "are"; the situation shows it won't be enough.

07 you are going to spill your coffee
"You" takes "are" — the cup is already tipping.

08 I am not going to work this Saturday
"I" takes "am"; "not" follows right after.

BRICK 3 · CORRECT

01 I'm going to call the client tomorrow.
Going to needs a form of "be" before it — with "I": "am".

02 She is going to lead the workshop.
"She" takes "is", not "are".

03 He's going to fly to London on Monday.
The base verb follows going to — with no ending.

04 I'm going to send the email this afternoon.
"Gonna" is spoken only — in writing it is "going to".

05 Are you going to attend the training?
In a question, the form of "be" moves before the subject.

06 He isn't going to join us for the call.
You negate "be" — not with "doesn't".

BRICK 4 · WRITE

Your sentences may differ — just check: subject + matching am/is/are + going to + base verb.

01 "I'm going to cook dinner after work."
A plan decided before; "I" + "am" + base verb.

02 "This weekend, I'm going to visit my parents."
A weekend intention — going to + base verb "visit".

03 "We're going to present the new design next month."
"We" takes "are"; then the base verb "present".

04 "Look at my inbox — it's going to take all morning."
Visible evidence; "it" takes "is".
