BRICK 1 · SORT BY MEANING · APPROX. 4 MIN

Sort each sentence. On the left, the clause adds removable information. On the right, it identifies the intended group.

Our CEO, who lives nearby, cycles to work.

Staff who handle cash need annual training.

The atlas, which is outdated, stays archived.

Orders that arrive damaged need photographs.

Nina, who manages payroll, called this morning.

Branches that serve hospitals open earlier.

The east lift, which failed yesterday, is running.

Clients who request paper bills pay postage.

Our showroom, which faces the park, closes early.

Devices that use old software need updates.

EXTRA DETAIL: WITH COMMAS

IDENTIFICATION: NO COMMAS

BRICK 3 · FIND AND CORRECT THE MISTAKE · APPROX. 7 MIN

Each sentence contains one pronoun or comma error. Underline it and rewrite the sentence correctly.

01 Our chair, that works remotely, called at noon.

02 The backup failed, what delayed the release.

.....

03 Our main depot which opened in April is full.

.....

04 Elena, which leads procurement, approved the order.

.....

05 The contract, that expires tomorrow, needs one signature.

.....

06 Our scanner, who sits by reception, is broken.

.....

BRICK 4 · WRITE SHORT REPORT SENTENCES · APPROX. 8 MIN

Write one English sentence for each prompt. Bracket every piece of extra information with commas.

01 Person: add the workplace of a named colleague.

02 Document: add the publication date of an identified manual.

.....

03 Result: comment on a deadline change with which.

.....

04 Minimal pair: show all teams, then only some teams.

.....

MINI-CHECK – CAN I DO THIS YET?

- ☐ I first check whether the referent is already identified.
- ☐ I put commas before and after an inserted detail.
- ☐ After the comma, I choose who or which, not that.
- ☐ I can use which to comment on a complete previous statement.

Unsure? Remove the detail and check whether the referent stays the same.

Answer key

Check only when you have finished. Every answer comes with the why — the rule matters more than the result.
